Good Afternoon Gina,

I sent you a message earlier regarding the workshop flyer and invitation which was sent through our EPA AK Info Box. That should have reached the majority of the tribal environmental staff at the tribal governments and tribal consortia/regional non-profits in Alaska. I understand the Alaska Tribal Conference on Environmental Management is going on that same week and Friday is a training session day. Given relative priorities for the tribal staff attending the conference you might see greater participation on Friday than Thursday, so you might consider planning for an opportunity to do a quick review of the day prior. This would be particularly helpful in the event you get a lot of folks showing up for the second day vs. both days. In regards to EPA's participation, I understand that there are three EPA representatives from our office in Seattle who are traveling up for the workshop: Angela Chung, Lon Kissinger, and Matt Szelag. I haven't had a chance to determine whether or not I will be participating in any of the meeting.

If you have any additional needs please let Angela or I know.

Thanks! Tami

Hi, Tami.

I have another topic for you! I'm not sure if you've heard that we're putting on a 2 day Human Health Criteria Workshop in Anchorage October 29 & 30. We're interested in getting both EPA IGAP staff and the tribes there and participating. Who would be the best EPA contact to coordinate this (getting EPA staff and tribes to the workshop)? Thank you!
